

BANK CHANGES

At the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Exchange Bank of Kentucky held last Saturday, Hon. Henry R. Prewitt was re-elected President and Messrs. H. R. Prewitt, E. R. Prewitt, A. M. Bourne, Thomas Kennedy and Ed. L. William, all well-known local business men, were elected Directors for the ensuing year.

Mr. Jno. S. Frazer, who has been its Cashier for some several years, was granted, on his motion, a vacation of several months and Mr. B. Frank Perry, the Assistant Cashier and General Bookkeeper, was chosen to succeed Mr. Frazer as Cashier; Mr. R. H. Lane, the Individual Bookkeeper, was promoted to Mr. Perry's place and Mr. Alfred Jones was elected to Mr. Lane's position.

All of these gentlemen are deservedly popular and being competent bank men, will undoubtedly maintain the present high standard of this excellent institution.

HOUSE BURNS

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the handsome two story frame residence owned by Mr. Henry Watson on Richmond avenue, Friday night. Mr. E. L. Fassett and family who occupied the house, were at the circus and knew nothing about the fire until after the show. Neighbors succeeded in saving considerable furniture, etc., but Mr. Fassett's loss will amount to several hundred dollars. The house was covered by insurance.

Mr. Fassett and family have rented the Mrs. Lou Barnes property, corner High and Sycamore streets, and took possession yesterday.

RE-ELECTED TRUSTEES

Messrs. Chas. D. Grubbs, J. A. Shirley and J. M. Conroy were re-elected trustees of the Mt. Sterling Public Graded Schools Saturday. Little interest was shown in the election as the gentlemen had no opposition. Several men received complimentary votes. These gentlemen will make excellent officials.

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Go-To-Sunday-School Sunday Proves a Big Success in City of Mt. Sterling.

"Go-To-Sunday-School Sunday" was a splendid success in Mt. Sterling and the people who had the movement in charge feel that their efforts were amply rewarded. Increased attendance was noted in all the churches. In accordance with a National movement the day was celebrated. The weather was ideal. Saturday afternoon a parade of children on ponies carrying banners inviting everybody to come to Sunday School was had. There were thirty-five ponies in the parade, besides many horses. The attendance at the various churches was as follows:

Christian	545
Methodist	319
Presbyterian	149
Baptist	138

Possibly the best gain in percentage was at the Baptist church, which has only a church membership of 190 and a regular Sunday School attendance of about 65. We understand that all the churches throughout the county were well attended. The colored churches also had large congregations, having a total attendance of 294.

The attendance in the county churches was 422, making a total in city and county of 1,573 white's and 294 colored.

The great movement is sweeping the entire country. A million in Sunday School was the slogan and we believe that number was reached, although it will take weeks before it can be announced definitely.

INTERESTING OLD PAPER

Mrs. T. F. Triplett has in her possession a copy of the New York Observer, published under date of April 20, 1865.

The paper contains many interesting things, including a graphic story of the assassination of President Lincoln and the attempted murder of Secretary Seward the same night.

The paper was given to Mrs. Triplett by her mother and has been in her possession many years.

ANOTHER HUNG JURY.

After consuming several days in the hearing of testimony and arguments of counsel, the jury in the case of W. T. Fitzpatrick on motion to be adjudged competent to manage his large business interests, again disagreed, this time standing eight to four against Mr. Fitzpatrick. This was quite a surprise as there is a strong public sentiment in Mr. Fitzpatrick's behalf.

Mr. A. S. Hart, who has been acting for some time as his Committee, tendered his resignation, because of pressing personal business interests, and Mr. A. L. Tipton, one of our most highly respected farmers, was chosen to succeed him. The case will again be called for trial on the second Monday in September next.

NOW ON THE JOB

The four government representatives who will have charge of the work on the road between Mt. Sterling and Sharpsburg arrived several days ago. They have been busy for several days past locating camps, hauling machinery, supplies, etc., and the actual work of re-construction started Monday. We understand about fifty teams, scrapers and wagons will be used and about 150 men employed. The work started on the Bath county end of the road just beyond what is known as the covered bridge. The work will be pushed as fast as possible.

REACHES RIPE OLD AGE

Mr. Chas. B. Fizer, of this city, Monday, May 4th celebrated his 75th birthday. Mr. Fizer has been a resident of the city for many, many years and is known to nearly everyone in the county. For a man of his age he is remarkably well preserved and although his hair is white, his figure is as straight and erect as it was the day he marched away to the Civil War. He is a genial, whole-souled old gentleman and his host of friends hope he will live to have many more birthdays.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

Rev. Clyde Darsie and family arrived last Thursday from Springfield, Ill., and are occupying the Christian church parsonage on Clay street. Rev. Darsie filled the pulpit at the Christian church both Sunday morning and evening and preached two very interesting sermons to large audiences. Rev. Darsie and family come to our city highly recommended, and we extend to them a hearty welcome.

MOTHER'S DAY

Next Sunday, May 10th, will be observed as "Mother's Day" at the various churches in this city. The mother's will have charge of the exercises at the Christian church Sunday School and a novel program has been arranged. Everybody is cordially invited, and requested to wear a white flower, preferably a white carnation.

MAKES GOOD IN NEW HOME

Former Mt. Sterling Girl Making Great Success in Large Ohio City.

The following article clipped from the Dayton Daily News will be of interest to many people here. Mrs. Greenwood before her marriage was Miss Nellie Tatom and made her home in this city. She was left penniless when quite a child but through the goodness of several citizens here was enabled to complete her education and, although a good student and industrious scholar, was a failure as a teacher. She possessed more than one woman's share of courage however, and determined to succeed, and how well she has succeeded in her chosen profession, the following article will tell. She has many friends here who will read this article with interest and who will be glad to know she is doing so well.

"Luck may figure in it to a considerable extent, but I'm inclined to think it's because I studied situations carefully, and have done a lot of hard work, day and night," replied Nellie M. Greenwood of 927 Reibold building, when asked by a News representative to what she attributes her decided success in real estate transactions.

This young woman entered the real estate business in 1906 for herself, without capital, purchasing her first lot at $5 down and $1.00 per week, and thereafter so manipulating affairs to the end that she has constructed many houses in this city, now occupied with satisfied customers. The "sixth sense" in business, which in her case has spelled success in choosing locations which shortly thereafter double and triple in value, has been an appreciable factor in her success.

She buys her own materials, lumber, cement, plaster, etc., and hires her own workmen. The houses she puts up for prospective home buyers are usually of the substantial, modern type, with six rooms and bath, equipped with electricity and other conveniences, and she has no trouble in disposing of all she undertakes to build.

Mrs. Greenwood has operated principally in the southeastern part of the city, as well as in Edgemont, though buying real estate and building houses in various other parts of Dayton.

She also built her own pretty residence at 241 Audubon Park, a two-story pressed brick of attractive appearance, with garage and all other necessary equipment. Her recent purchases include a new summer home with eleven acres, north of the city, 2½ miles from Little York, from which she expects to derive much pleasure this season.

Mrs. Greenwood came to Dayton from Kentucky in 1901, and is an ardent enthusiast in regard to outdoor life and the simple, natural pleasures which follow in its wake. She devotes such time as she can snatch for recreation to music and also—unusual predilection for woman-kind!—the study of commercial law, in which she is an adept.

LOOK OUT AUTO OWNERS

Last Sunday Mr. W. A. Sutton, of this city, with his family, was motoring to Winchester, and upon approaching the covered bridge known as Skinner's bridge, in Clark county, noticed another machine stopped in the road and stopped to inquire if he could be of any assistance and was told by the owner that he had picked up a couple of tacks in the road, upon investigation they found that tacks had been placed entirely across the road by some miscreant. This is not the first time this has been done, as auto owners complained about this a great deal last year. It is hoped that the officers of Clark county will investigate this matter. The tacks have always been found near the bridge above referred to.

We are at a loss to understand why anyone should wish to deliberately destroy another's property and hope the party or parties are caught and punished.

To the Public:

For twenty years I have given to the Exchange Bank of Kentucky the best service of which I have been capable and while not meaning to take to myself any large share of the credit for same, it is a pleasure for me to announce that never in its history has it been in a more prosperous or safer condition.

At my request the Board of Directors has granted me a leave of absence and Mr. B. Frank Perry has been chosen to succeed me as Cashier.

My associations with the officials and other employees of the bank have always been most pleasant and I sincerely hope this excellent institution will continue to enjoy the confidence of the banking public.

Assuring my friends that I will appreciate in the future, as I have in the past, any business entrusted to this bank's care, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
Jno. S. Frazer.

MARRIES IN CINCINNATI

Former Business Man of Mt. Sterling Takes Bride in the Queen City.

Many friends of Mr. J. Will ShROUT, of Cincinnati, O., formerly of this city were surprised to receive the following announcement Monday:

Mr. John William Shroul and Miss Mattie Sidel Howk announce their marriage Thursday, April the thirtieth One thousand nine hundred and fourteen At Home after June tenth 4005 Floral Ave. South Norwood, Ohio

Mr. ShROUT was one of our most prominent merchants for several years, but has been a traveling salesman for the past few years with headquarters at Cincinnati.

He is an affable and pleasant gentleman with a host of friends and relatives all through this section of the state, and the news of his marriage will be received with interest.

The Advocate extends best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

"SNOW-WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS"

The operetta Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs to be given by 130 children of the Public School assisted by Messrs. N. D. Brown and G. B. THE BOYS' PIG CLUB

A movement for the organization of boys' pig clubs in the rural districts has been started in Kentucky. The pig clubs are designed to accomplish for the hog-raising industry what the boys' corn clubs have been doing for the improvement of corn growing.

The pig clubs have been very successful in some of the Southern States. A resume of their work in Louisiana recently has been published as a bulletin of the Louisiana State University.
The progress of the organization in that state has been rapid.
The first club was organized in Caddo parish by a superintendent of rural schools in the fall of 1910. During the winter clubs were formed in two other parishes and in 1911 the campaign resulted in eleven additional parishes becoming interested. The Caddo club had fifty members when it was first instituted. In 1913 the membership of the clubs had increased to 1,669.

At the 1913 State Fair 120 pigs were exhibited by club members, several winning blue ribbons in competition with leading growers and breeders throughout the South. Of the 1,669 members enrolled, 367 kept the records prescribed by the university directors and submitted formal reports of their work, while 148 others reported informally.

Forty parishes had organized clubs last year and it is hoped that the work is only fairly begun. The university and the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry are co-operating for the encouragement of the movement. The boys are taught the best methods of selecting, feeding and caring for their pigs. It is a work in which most farm boys manifest a lively concern, and the good natured rivalry in hog production is bound to have a good effect.

The farmers of Kentucky are not doing as well in the pig-raising business as they ought to do, but in this respect they are doing better, perhaps, than most of the States in the South.

But the whole country needs to increase its production of hogs and Kentucky needs to contribute its full share to the increase.
The boys' pig clubs should be a tremendous factor for improving the porcine status, and it is to be hoped they will become as numerous and as successful as the corn clubs.—Courier-Jour-

ONLY A GIRL

Journeying afoot on a Persian highway from one village to another, the Rev. E. T. Allen, one of the workers of the Presbyterian church, met a man, two women and a little girl. "They passed us, receiving our peace and returning it. A moment or two later we heard a cry and,
turning around, saw the man and one woman fighting over the child. He struck the child, knocked it down and kicked it;
then catching it by one leg he was about to dash it on the stones when the woman caught its arm and broke the fall. By that time I was there and had the man by the throat, but didn't know what to do with him. I didn't want to hit him and didn't want to let him go, so just held him while I talked like a Dutch uncle. My blood boiled, for I had left a little girl at home, and was thinking of her. Then what do you think he said when I let him go? Looking calmly at me he said: "Sahib, don't be cross;
it's nothing; she is only a girl and she is my own daughter!"

Friends of Judge John A. Bunn S. Wilson, of Morehead, is an avowed aspirant for the nomination for prosecutor in that district. There will be an opening for this place, as W. Bridges White, of Mt. Do you go to church?

IF I CAN LIVE.

If I can live
To make some pale face brighter, and to give
A second lustre to some tear-dimmed eye,
Or e'en impart
One throb of comfort in an aching heart,
Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;
If I can lend
A strong hand to the fallen or defend
The right against a single envious strain,
My life, though bare,
Perhaps, of much that seemeth dear and fair
To us of earth, will not have been in vain.
The purest joy,
Most near to heaven, farthest from earth's alloy,
Is bidding cloud give way to sun and shine;
And 'twill be well,
If on that day of days the angels tell
Of me, she did her best for one of Thine.

RACING COMMISSION NAMED BY GOVERNOR

Members of the State Racing Commission were appointed last Wednesday by Governor McCreary. They are Charles N. Grainger and Col. W. B. Haldeman, of Louisville, Thomas Hart Talbot, of Paris, Johnson N. Camden, of Versailles, and Judge Allie W. Young, of Morehead.

Colonel Haldeman and Judge Young are the new members of the Commission, the other three being re-appointed. They succeed Colonel Milton Young, of Lexington and George J. Long, of Louisville.

EDUCATION IN JAPAN

"To-day" we have a system of compulsory education, with only two per cent illiteracy in the empire. This refers not only to men but to women as well. Beyond question modern education has placed the womanhood of Japan above the womanhood of all other oriental nations.

"Now woman competes with man in many callings. She is found in postoffice employ, in railroad employ, in office and in shop, and she has no superior as a nurse for the sick.

"According to latest statistics Japan has almost 7,000,000 pupils in her elementary schools. In the secondary schools nearly 200,000 students are enrolled.

"In addition to these various technical schools are maintained, including agricultural, commercial, industrial and nautical institutions. These send out yearly about 90,000 graduates. Institutions of higher learning for both men and women are supplemented by effective mission schools. There are also four imperial universities.

"In spite of all this provision, the demand for modern education is so great that neither the government nor the missions working in Japan have been able adequately to meet the situation.

"As a religion, Dr. Sato says the Japanese have come to see that Christianity supplies a great moral need. Respect for the missionaries increases. The schools are crowded with applicants for admission. Young men come to America for education.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. And until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Our Anniversary.

Four years ago today there appeared at the head of this column a card addressed to the public as follows:

"As indicated in the farewell card of Mr. B. W. Trimble, of last week, THE ADVOCATE, with this issue, becomes the property of the ADVOCATE PUBLISHING COMPANY, incorporated, with Messrs. G. B. Senff and J. W. Hedden, Jr., as Editors and Business Managers. They are both well known young men and have gone to work in earnest, fully appreciating the task before them. THE ADVOCATE will continue Democratic; will insist, at all times, that only clean and capable men be nominated, at the same time urging the settlement of party differences, within party lines. Its aim shall be to give the news, having due regard for the ethics of correct journalism and the rights of others. The officers of the law, in their efforts to impartially enforce it, will continue to receive its support and cooperation, as will any and all public enterprises or measures, for the betterment of our community or society at large. Upon this platform it shall strive mightily to merit honest approval. ADVOCATE PUBLISHING COMPANY."

We do not expect to win the approval of either the disgruntled, the envious or the senile, but we do cherish the hope that our efforts, for the four years just closing, to discharge our obligations to the public, have met with the endorsement of the intelligent and impartial citizens of our community.

Gov. McCreary's selection of Judge Allie W. Young, as a member of the State Racing Commission, will be endorsed and appreciated by the appointee's many friends here. His high character and ability will strengthen the commission in the confidence of the public and insure a clean, fair deal, if he can secure it, for all lovers of the sport.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Courtney Horton)

Last Thursday afternoon at the Fair Grounds, a baseball game was played between teams representing the City and County High Schools. The result was that the City High School nine came out of the contest with the long end of an 8 to 2 score. McGuire, who started on the mound for the County lads, was wild as a March hare and given poor support. After two runs had been scored off his delivery he retired in favor of Barnard, who was greeted with a warm reception from the beginning. After he had succumbed to a fusillade of hits, Dunavent went to the rubber for County High and succeeded in stopping the City lad's onslaught. Kelly, City High's regular catcher, pitched eight innings and was unsolvable all the way, not a run being scored off his delivery. The outstanding feature of the game was a catch by DeHaven who leaped into the air and speared a liner from Turkey's bat. Had any of our policemen been present he would have no doubt been arrested for first degree grand larceny.

On the evening of May 22nd, Mr. Edward Saxon, who has played prominent parts in "Peaceful Valley," "Polly of the Circus," and "The Fortune Hunter," will give an entertainment in the High School Auditorium under the auspices of the local Camp Fire Girls. Watch this column for further information.

The track meet and baseball game between the Mt. Sterling and Cynthiana High School, which was to have been held at the Fair Grounds last Monday afternoon was postponed until Friday, May 8th, on account of rain. As previously scheduled the track events will start promptly at 2 o'clock and the baseball game will follow immediately. Although our boys were sorry that rain interfered, they are working hard to be in tip-top form by Friday and will give the Harrison county lads the battle of their lives. Come out and see a real game of baseball.

Last Tuesday afternoon a number of our teachers boarded the 3:47 train and went to Louisville to attend a meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association. The result was that the pupils enjoyed a much needed and longed for holiday. Both teachers and students returned to their work Monday morning, feeling that they had been benefited, both mentally and physically by their vacation. Although we enjoyed the holiday very much there is no denying the fact that the after effects are very discouraging. As usual we expect to fall victims to a number of severe and uncalled for rules and regulations gathered here and there on the journey.

The Operetta, which will be given at the Opera House next Thursday evening under the direction of Miss Ethel Ferguson, will be a rare musical treat for the people of our community. Judging from the advance sale of tickets, there will be a good-sized crowd in attendance, so encourage them with your presence.

Miss Julia Rodman and Mr. Irwin Jackson will leave for Lexington Friday to represent our High School in the public speaking contests. They will compete with pupils from High Schools from all parts of the State.

POULTRY

SHAPE AND VIGOR OF FOWLS

Vitality Should Be First Requisite in Every Domestic Bird Used for Breeding Purposes.

(By D. J. LAMBERT, Poultry Instructor, Rhode Island State College. Copyright, 1914.)

Careful selection of breeding stock, eliminating all those showing traces of weakness, will insure poultry raisers against three-fourths of the mortality of chickenhood.

Abounding vitality should be the first requisite in every domestic fowl used for breeding purposes. No matter what class, breed, variety, size or coat, or how excellent the prize record or fine the plumage, if the bird is lacking in stamina it should never be used for reproduction. These rules apply to all kinds and both sexes.

The most vigorous males of common fowls are invariably loud crows, proud strutters and ready fighters, and a vigorous male can be detected by the way he carries himself and by the way he stands upon his feet and throws out his chest when he crows. Other unmistakable signs of vigor are a straight, upright, bright red comb, stout beak, broad back and smooth shanks set well apart.

Hens and pullets of strong vitality type are generally prolific layers, are off the roost at dawn and will keep at work until darkness compels them to stop. They are always wide awake, industrious, buoyant, and in shape these hens are broad across the hips, the tail is carried fairly well up and their size is near the average for the breed.

For breeding purposes hens are generally preferred to pullets because they are fully matured and possess stored up vitality after their annual molt. Furthermore, their second laying year they will lay larger eggs which produce stronger chickens.

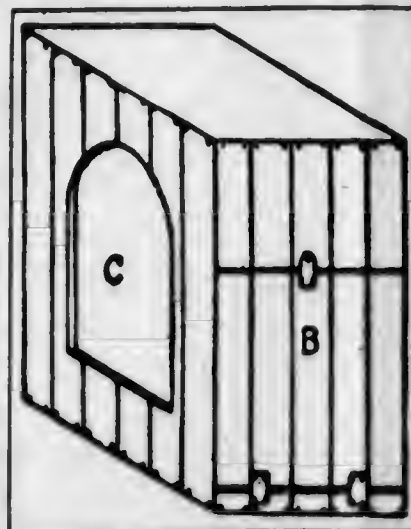

A well-matured year-old cockerel is often a surer stock getter than an adult cock because the former is generally more active and sprightly. The number of hens to one male depends upon how many eggs are desired for incubation and whether the flock is confined in a yard or has unlimited range. It is better to breed only from the very best than to include inferior specimens to make up a larger pen. Four to eight hens, with one cockerel, is usually better than a large number, especially when space is limited, and a vigorous male will take care of forty or fifty hens on free farm range. So long as both sexes are strong and hardy it is possible to get good results in breeding from very closely related stock, which is frequently done by breeders of show-ring birds.

TO MAKE LIGHT NEST-BOXES

Material Suitable for the Purpose May Be Obtained From Grocer for the Mere Asking.

Light handy nests, which can easily be taken out and cleaned are made from grocery boxes which may often be had for the asking.

Cut a hole (C) in the side of the box 12 or 15 inches square, and hinge one end with strap-leather hinges as at (B), so that it will open out and allow for gathering eggs and for clean-

Box Nest Easily Made.

ing. Two holes in the back of the box will be quickly made for hanging the nest on nails driven into the side of the house.

Nests such as this can be made for a few cents each, and are convenient for egg gathering, and sanitary, says the Wisconsin Agriculturist. Ten of these box nests may be taken down, cleaned, sprayed and refilled with straw, in fifteen minutes. Let the boys make a set of them. Hens like the seclusion given by nests of the box type.

Feed Economically.

Feeding is a very important consideration in any line of animal husbandry and poultry raising is no exception. One must know something of the composition of feeds and be able to compute a balanced ration before one can feed economically. And without economical feeding profits can not be made.

Don't Sell Doubtful Eggs.

Doubtful eggs should never be marketed under any condition, for one bad egg may lose the best customer. "Do unto others as you would like to be done by," is an applicable rule.

DETERMINED TO WIN

The people of Pulaski county are to be congratulated on the zeal they are showing in behalf of road improvement.

On April 23 the county voted on a proposition to issue $300,000 in bonds for the construction of turnpikes. Out of nearly 5,000 votes cast there was a majority of 1,303 in favor of the bond issue. This was 176 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority. It demonstrates clearly, however, the preponderance of sentiment in favor of the road improvement. The advocates of the bond issue are so much encouraged at the showing of strength that they are already at work preparing petitions for another election to be held on June 26. In fact these petitions were put in circulation as soon as the result of the former election was known and had been signed by several hundred voters before the official count was made.

The road campaign is to continue without abatement and there is little doubt that the June election will show the necessary two-thirds majority—with votes to spare. Twenty-four precincts out of a total of thirty-five gave majorities in April for the bond issue. Some of the country precincts voted almost solidly for bonds. It is believed that many of those who opposed the proposition in April will vote for it in June, owing to the fact that so pronounced a majority for road improvement was shown.

When the people of any county make up their minds that they want good roads and are willing to pay for them the road building will not be long deferred. Pulaski county voters are in that state of mind and there can be no doubt of the outcome.—Courier Journal.

DAIRY FACTS

POSSIBILITIES OF DAIRYING

No Line of General Agriculture Will Pay So Large a Profit—There Are Many Details.

(By WILBER J. FRASER, Professor of Dairy Farming, University of Illinois.)
The population of the United States has practically doubled in the last 26 years. If this rate of increase continues for the next 25 years we will have nearly two hundred million people to feed. Since milk is one of the cheapest animal foods, rightly conducted dairying is certain to be profitable.

There is no line of general agriculture in which well-directed effort will pay so large a profit as in dairy farming, yet its possibilities are little realized, even by the best men engaged in that occupation. The profits on most dairy farms might easily be doubled. Like any other business, it is made up of an infinite number of small details, and unless all of these operations are conducted on business principles, the best results will not be obtained. The cow is the most economical producer of human food of any of our domestic animals, and as she is the machine for converting crops into dairy products, the surest profit and wisest economy is in securing the best machines obtainable. One cow may not pay for her board, while another, with the same amount of feed and care, may yield a profit of $75 a year. The wise dairyman keeps the latter kind.

SELECTION OF BEST BREEDS

Experienced Dairyman Says There is Big Advantage in Having But One Breed in Herd.

A dairyman who has had experience says there are good reasons for not mixing the cream of different dairy cow breeds. He says there is an advantage in having but one breed represented in private dairy herds; that no two breeds of cows have the same kind of milk. The speed of a separator that will skim Jersey milk clean, will waste butter fat in a Holstein cow's milk. And the temperature of cream in churning Holstein cream, if applied to Jersey cream, would keep the churn on the go for an unreasonable time, while the same temperature of Jersey cream, if applied to Holstein cream, would result in a great loss of butter fat and a soft butter, lacking grain. There is no difference in churn ability of all breeds of cows, and also in the separation of butter fat from the milk. Choose your breed and stick to it.

RESULTS FROM GOOD SIREs

Decided Contrast Shown to Those Districts Where Scrub or Beef Bulls Are Still Used.

One county in Iowa where the use of pure-bred dairy sires was introduced 20 years ago now produces 7,400 pounds of creamery butter per square mile each year. This is a decided contrast to those districts where scrub bulls are still in use, or where beef bulls are used in dairy herds. Because the result of using a well-bred sire cannot be seen for a year or two, beginners are inclined to become discouraged. One case is known where a Hereford sire was being used in a herd of high-grade Guernseys because the man who had the Hereford bull for sale said they were pretty good milkers. Such changes and mixing of blood never improve, but invariably weaken the stock. The first cost of a good dairy bull calf seems heavy to a man not familiar with them.

Way to Salt Butter.
Placing fresh butter into strong brine and allowing it to remain until it has absorbed sufficient salt to preserve it, is one of the best ways to salt butter. In this way there is no danger that the butter will not be salted evenly and thoroughly without leaving any hard, gritty pieces of salt in it to disgust the consumer.

Determine Profitable Cow.
To determine whether a cow is profitable or not, you must know what she produces and what it costs to produce that feed.

JAPAN'S INNER LIFE

"Many thoughtful Japanese have come to feel that something is lacking in the inner life of the nation. A voice within says that one-half of life is well cared for, the other half is neglected. There is a deep consciousness among these people that the soul cannot be satisfied with the doctrines of Nirvana, with the worship of ancestral gods, with the humanitarian principles of Confucianism, with the modern philosophy of atheism, nor with the new theory of evolution.

"Inspiration must come from on high. Something must be revealed to the soul. Inspiration and revelation are the things just now desired and sought. Without these even a highly developed civilization cannot give permanent satisfaction either to the national or individual life of a people.

"Something must be done to introduce a basic moral and religious principle into the religious life of the Japanese. This is the attitude taken by the government. On this account representatives of Buddhism, Shintoism and Christianity have been called together at two different times, once by the minister of home affairs and once by the minister of education.

"Japan is awakening to a new religious consciousness and need. The time cannot be far distant when Christianity and its benign influences shall be dominant in the life of the Japanese nation."

Famine and destruction are reported in the United Provinces of India, affecting, in some degree, twenty millions of people and in a very serious way fully five millions. Relief work has been opened by the government to aid the farmers in digging wells for irrigation and to provide funds for the purchase of feed for their cattle. Food prices are at famine level, and large multitudes are enduring the inclement weather without sufficient food, clothes or bedding.

JURIST ON COMMISSION

Judge Allie W. Young, of Morehead, one of the new members appointed on the State Racing Commission by Gov. McCreary, adds to this important body a distinguished lawyer and jurist. He is probably the first lawyer ever named on the commission, which exercises judicial functions and on this account the selection of Judge Young is regarded as very fortunate. An ardent devotee of the racing game, Judge Young has always contended for the sport being conducted on the highest plane, and in his new position and by reason of his eminent qualifications, he will prove a valuable member. He is one of Gov. McCreary's closest friends and confidential advisers and in his selection the Governor paid him a neat compliment.

OPPOSED TO STATE RELIGION

The Chinese Daily News, of Vancouver, B. C., is publishing extensive reports of meetings held by Chinese in various parts of the United States opposing the official adoption of Confucianism in China.

Petitions signed by Chinese residents in this country, representing Taoists, Buddhists, Roman Catholics, Protestants and Mohammedans are under preparation. These will be forwarded to President Yuan Shih Kai, in the hope of preventing reactionary tendencies in his republic.

Especially worthy of note is the fact that these petitions are drawn up by the Chinese themselves. In no sense are they even the suggestion of Christian mission boards, or of other religious propagandists.

GET TO THE CAUSE

Mrs. Sterling People Are Learning the Way.

There is but little peace or comfort for the man or woman with a bad back. The distress begins in early morning—keeps up throughout the day. It's hard to get out of bed, it's torture to stoop or straighten. Plasters and liniments may relieve, but cannot cure if the cause is inside—the kidneys. When suffering so, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the tested and proven kidney remedy, used in kidney troubles for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by thousands for just such cases. Proof of their effectiveness in the testimony of this Mt. Sterling resident:

Charles Neal, 12 Hamilton avenue, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "All I have previously said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. They have done me so much good that I can recommend them strongly. Another of my family had a severe pain across the back. Different medicines were tried out but nothing did any good until I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Duerson's Drug Store. They brought relief."

FROM MANY LANDS

According to a statement by the American Bible society, 35,000,000 volumes of the Scriptures have been sent to China since Bibles began to be distributed systematically in that country.

No matter how rough the road to heaven is you'll feel all the more like enjoying your rest when you get there.

"At the morning hour I worshiped with a Chinese congregation," writes Rev. James H. Franklin, secretary, American Baptist Foreign Missionary society. "Only thirteen years ago 200 members of this band gave their lives rather than deny Christ. The assistant pastor who took part in the service that morning lost his wife and children, father and mother, brothers and sister—just thirteen years ago. ALFALFA.

Bulletin 178, of the Kentucky Experiment Station, announces that alfalfa is a success in Kentucky when properly planted and cultivated. The bulletin is issued by Prof. Roberts and his co-workers and the information is particularly valuable because of the very sound men behind the agronomy department of the Station. To quote the writers:

The numerous attempts to grow alfalfa in Kentucky have more often resulted in failure than in success. The crop is profitable grown under all climatic conditions found in the United States, and is found thriving in all sections of Kentucky. It is therefore evident that the many failures in this State are not due to climatic conditions, but to soil conditions. Good crops of alfalfa may be grown in any part of the State where the soil requirements discussed in the following pages exist naturally or may be provided by amending the soil. These requirements are, good drainage, sufficient plant food, lime, freedom from weeds, and inoculation.

In addition to the experiments at the Station farm, the bulletin gives the practical experience of a farmer at Junction City, Kentucky, of whose methods and success it states:

Mr. Givens is one of the most successful growers of this crop in the State. He now has sixty acres of splendid alfalfa upon his farm and intends to increase this to the one hundred acre mark. He is an experienced tobacco grower, but considers alfalfa a better crop and has entirely discontinued the growing of tobacco. He learned how to grow alfalfa before sowing a large acreage.

The interest of Mr. Givens in alfalfa grew from reading in agricultural journals of the value of this crop to live stock feeders. In 1907 he selected three acres from his cattle feed lot and plowed and prepared the seed bed just before the time for sowing. The field was well drained and, of course, rich in humus. The seed was sown in August after being inoculated with bacterial culture furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture. In the spring of 1908, just before the first cutting, Mr. Givens noticed that the alfalfa was turning yellow. Immediately after cutting, the ground was disked and 600 pounds of slaked lime, 400 pounds of finely ground Tennessee rock phosphate, and 400 pounds of cotton seed meal per acre were applied through the fertilizer attachment of a grain drill. The cotton seed meal, while rich in nitrogen, was used to make the lime and phosphate rock sow from the drill.

Mr. Givens states that in 1908 three crops were cut, while each year since four cuttings have been made, and he believes that five cuttings could have been removed without injury to the alfalfa. The year 1911 was a very poor one for hay on account of early dry weather, but four cuttings were removed that year, and Mr. Givens says that his three acres of alfalfa furnished more feed than his seventy acres of timothy. Alfalfa, when well established, withstands drouth better than most crops. In 1912, the sixth year of cutting, the estimated yield was 8 tons per acre, and from 15 to 20 tons were sold at the barn for $20 per ton. The first cutting of his three-acre field in 1913 was hauled to Danville and sold for $1.46. No crop in extensive farming is more profitable than alfalfa.

The importance of cutting alfalfa just at the right time is emphasized by Mr. Givens. He thinks that the common "cure all" of clipping when alfalfa turns yellow kills the plants in many instances. The time to cut alfalfa is when the young shoots appear at the crowns of the plants. The alfalfa is cut with a mower, allowed to wilt, then raked into small windrows, shocked and capped. The caps are commonly made of canvas, but Mr. Givens uses covers made from four cotton seed meal sacks, left double, sewed together at two edges, and weighted with pieces of stone or brick at the four corners. The sewing of the covers cost him three cents each, and they have been preserved and used with perfect satisfaction for several years. The hay, after curing under these caps for two days of good weather, is hauled to the barn and has never been known to spoil in the shocks or in the barn. Immediately after each cutting, Mr. Givens cultivates the ground even while the alfalfa is yet in shock. He has for this purpose a spring tooth harrow with teeth much narrowed at the points, but often uses instead the double cutting disk. He says, "When I get through cultivating my alfalfa it looks almost like a corn field prepared for planting."

After some years of experience with the three-acre field, Mr. Givens decided to grow alfalfa more extensively, and in the latter part of August, 1912 following a wheat crop, he prepared the land and sowed twenty-six acres. In this case 1,000 pounds per acre of rock phosphate were turned under, then 1,500 pounds of ground limestone per acre were applied and worked into the soil. The inoculation was this time effected by using 150 pounds per acre of soil from the old alfalfa field. After inoculation, the seed bed was made very fine and firm,

FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, Has Found a Remedy.

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions usually go together.

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, says: "I had a bad stomach trouble for years, and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking 'Vinol' I find a remarkable improvement in my health, my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight. I would not be without 'Vinol.'"

Vinol makes weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. Vinol is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

then 20 pounds of seed per acre were sown and covered only about one-half an inch. Small seeds are often covered too deeply.

When it is considered that alfalfa ranks with wheat bran, pound for pound, in feeding value, with its nutritive elements in better form for stock, and when it is further considered that this rich feeding crop almost equals tobacco in acreage value, the importance of growing alfalfa and the importance of knowing that it can be grown in the stock state of the world is of far reaching interest to Kentucky.

Learn how to grow the crop by a small beginning and by following the example of the Station and farmers who have made the crop a success.

KNEW TRAIN WOULD BE LATE

At a moving-picture theatre one evening there was thrown on the screen a view of a group of young ladies preparing to disrobe and go in bathing in a sheltered lake in the back-ground. Just as they started to undress a long freight train came along the track between the camera and the bathers. By the time it had passed the young ladies were in their bathing suits and in the lake. At the close of the evening's performance at the theatre a man hurried out to the box office and throwing down a bill demanded a seat for every night during the balance of the week. "I will be glad to sell them to you," explained the man in the ticket window, "but we show the same pictures every night this week. 'I know you do,' replied the prospective purchaser. "But I'm an old railroad man and I know that freight train is not going to be on time every night."

COMPROMISE ON HOME RULE BILL SEEMS NEAR

A compromise on the question of home rule for Ireland seems nearer than it has ever been before. There exists a strong belief in parliament circles that the conferences between the leaders of the two great parties which had been unsuccessful in reaching any agreement last Autumn, soon would be resumed. The House of Commons discussed the Ulster crisis again when it wound up the two days debate on Austen Chamberlain's motion for a judicial inquiry into the government's "plot" to crush the Ulster Covenanters. The motion which was virtually a vote of censure on the cabinet was eventually rejected by a party vote of 344 to 264.

An atmosphere of great solemnity and restraint overhung the house throughout the debate. The growing belief that civil war in Ireland is a reality which cannot be escaped if the Irish Home rule bill becomes law as it at present stands seems to have influenced members on both sides of the House as it has the newspapers supporting both parties. During the past week the press of both opinions has become more conciliatory in tone than it has been at any previous stage of the discussion.

Sir Edward Carson whose leadership of the Ulster rebellion makes him the dominating figure of the opposition side of the house accepted the overtures made by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who had invited Sir Edward Carson to attempt to compromise the home rule question on a federal basis. Sir Edward reiterated his destination of home rule and repeated his offer that if Ulster were excluded from the bill "until this parliament shall determine the six years period which Premier Asquith had offered he would submit the proposal to the people of Ulster."

Sir Edward in his reply to Mr. Churchill's invitation declared all he wanted for Ulster was such terms as would conserve the dignity of the Ulster men and their civil and religious freedom. He concluded that in case the home rule bill passed it would be his earnest prayer that the government of the south and west of Ireland would prove so successful that it might be to Ulster's interest to join and form a United Ireland.

Premier Asquith concluded the debate with an eloquent speech which contained the statement that his offer of the temporary exclusion of the Ulster counties from the operation of the home rule bill for a period of six years remained open. He said he considered Sir Edward Carson's statement most important and he recognized and reciprocated its spirit. A settlement he declared could not be successfully negotiated by bargaining across the floor of the House of Commons and the questions at issue could not be settled behind the backs of the men of Ulster or of the rest of Ireland.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition who spoke before the premier said that the premier must recognize that the calamity facing the country was so awful that some way to peace must be found at any cost. He continued: "If the premier does seek for peace we on this side of the House will do anything in our power to make a peaceful solution possible. Mr. Law said personal feelings should not count in the matter and if Premier Asquith preferred to negotiate with Lord Lansdowne and Austen Chamberlain instead of with himself he would gladly welcome the suggestion.

ration to his speech justified Ulster in making civil war. He said his public life had been devoted to the cause of the Union between Great Britain and Ireland and concluded: "If in order to avoid the incalculable horrors of civil war we must set up a separate parliament in Dublin, I shall think it marks the failure of my whole life's work."

ASPARAGUS

There is still time to plant asparagus, and room in every city back yard for the bed. It comes when vegetables are scarce. It is of no more trouble than flowers. It supplies the table with one of the most delicious of vegetables, and, before even the flowers have grown up, forms a shrub, equaled only in delicate beauty by the maiden hair fern.

It is a plant with recognized medicinal value. In fact, the physicians were the first to introduce the plant for human consumption. There are many ways to cook and serve it. It is not one of the cheap vegetables, but there is no reason why every family should not have it, from their own bed, as a daily dish through the entire asparagus season.

From fifty to one hundred plants will furnish a good bed for the average family. The plants can be purchased from the nurserymen at from one to two cents each. Add to this a cart load of manure, at fifty cents, several hours of work before breakfast or after work and you will have an asparagus bed that will supply the family in another year, and for many other years, with a vegetable that is liked by you and is healthy for all. The plants can be planted as a border to a walk, or the bed placed so as to make a screen for the garbage can. The florists use asparagus to give an extra touch to flowers. The shrub lasts until late in the fall, and can be gathered for decorating in the home without hurting the bed.

In arranging the city garden be sure to include the queen of vegetable-shrubs, asparagus.

THIS NEW KIND OF

Motorcycle

CAN BE USED ALL WINTER

If you buy a Two-Speed Yale Motorcycle you can ride it all through the winter as well as during the months of good weather, for there is a machine of such great ability that it will do work that was impossible with the older types. With the tremendous reserve power of the Two-Speed Yale you can plow through the deep snowdrifts without trouble. The low center of gravity and perfect balance make it easy to handle on bad roads, and the big three-inch (automobile size) studded tires grip the snowy or ice covered road surfaces firmly and make control safe and sure. True, the old kind of motorcycles couldn't do this—most riders stored their machines till springtime—but the new Two-Speed Yale is a machine for use all the year round, under all conditions.

MUSICAL TREAT NOW ASSURED

Well-known Artists Secured for Lexington's May Festival.

RICCARDO MARTIN TOP LINER

Kentucky Singer Is Known as the "American Caruso" and is Considered Country's Greatest Tenor. Other Soloists of Note, Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and Two Choruses Fill Out Attractions May 12 and 13.

Lexington is coming to the front this season with the most ambitious music festival ever attempted in Kentucky outside of Louisville, and equal in point of merit, if not in number of days, to the May festivals for which Cincinnati is so justly celebrated. Having taken on city proportions with her new skyscrapers, the music loving people of the Blue Grass Capital, liberally backed financially by her leading citizens, have determined to make Lexington's second May Music Festival the greatest musical event which the people of central Kentucky have ever enjoyed. In the selection of artists and other attractions no expense has been spared, and the opportunity will be the best that the people of central Kentucky have ever had both in point of artistic merit, and in cost of attendance.

RICCARDO MARTIN.

The dates selected are May 12 and 13. The first performance will be on the evening of Tuesday, May 12, at 8 o'clock. There will be an afternoon concert on Wednesday, May 13, at 2 p. m., and in the evening at 8 p. m. All of the concerts will be at the Auditorium in Woodland Park, which has a seating capacity of about sixteen hundred.

The star attraction of the festival will be Riccardo Martin, "the American Caruso," of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York. Mr. Martin is a "Kentucky Boy." He was born in Hopkinsville and spent his early boyhood days there. He later lived a portion of his youth at Nashville. He developed a remarkable talent for music while very young, but his talents were first displayed as a pianist and composer. He was poor, but his obvious ability enlisted the interest and support of influential friends and he went to New York, where he became a pupil of the late Edward A. MacDowell, then professor of music at Columbia university. It was not until he had written a number of excellent compositions that he was persuaded that he possessed an unusual voice, which he decided to cultivate. He spent several years abroad under able masters, and since his debut he has risen rapidly until he now occupies a position of pre-eminence on the operatic stage. In the judgment of many critics, he is challenging Caruso for first place as the greatest living operatic tenor. It was Henry T. Finck, the famous music critic of the New York Evening Post, who first hailed Martin as "The American Caruso," and he is universally conceded to be the one great tenor which this country has ever produced.

Riccardo Martin was known in boyhood as Hugh Martin, his full name being Richard Hugh Martin, but, upon the insistence of his manager, who thought Hugh Martin was not a good stage name, he adopted the name by which he has become famous. He loves devotedly his native state and people, and is eagerly looking forward to his visit to Kentucky for Lexington's May Festival. While he is idolized in New York and has achieved great triumphs in London, it is said that the plaudits which are to him the sweetest are those which come from the people of his own state.

Mr. Martin has been with the Metropolitan Opera company for the past five seasons and has won his renown in the most popular operas of the Italian and French schools. He is particularly impressive as Don Jose in "Carmen," Rhaadames in "Aida," as Faust, as Rudolfo in "La Boheme," Mario in "Tosca," Des Grieux in "Manon," Manrico in "Il Trovatore," Canio in "Pagliacci," Turiddu in "Cavaleria Rusticana," Captain Pinkerton in "Madam Butterfly."

Martin often sings at the Sunday night concerts at the Metropolitan in New York, and when he does he never fails to be rewarded with ovations. He invariably sings arias from the operas which he has helped to popularize. During the height of the season, Martin sings occasionally at the musicales of the eastern millionaires, and for these he receives record fees.

Mr. Martin was first engaged to sing in the Royal Opera at Covent Garden during the season of 1910, and his success was so great that he was re-engaged for the following year.

The London Leader had this comment: "The cast of 'Pagliacci' was strong and familiar except for the Canio of Mr. Martin. He was very vigorous and dramatic, and sang with great fervor. He carried the house completely with him in his soliloquy at the end of the first act, and was recalled again and again."

Next to the acquisition of Riccardo Martin, the most notable feature of the May Festival will be the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, being the summer contingent of the big winter orchestra, in which are kept together its best artists. This is one of the most famous symphony orchestras in the world and is the pride and boast of Cincinnati. The services of Signor Pier Tirindelli, a celebrated director, have been procured especially for the Lexington May Festival. This will be a welcome announcement to the many music lovers who are no doubt familiar with his distinguished ability.

Among the best features of the festival will be Mr. Julius Sturm, violinist, and Mr. Emil Heermann, violinist, who come with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. Both of these artists possess high merit. Mr. Sturm is regarded as one of the finest cellists in this country, and Mr. Heermann's reputation is equally secure here and abroad. Their work in solo and duet with orchestra accompaniment will be a rare treat.

The other soloists who have been engaged for the festival are Miss Etta Mastin, soprano; Mrs. Mary Hawkins Dantzier, contralto, and Mr. Frank Croxton, basso. Miss Mastin is a rising young artist, whose recent work gives promise of landing her among the big operatic stars of the country. She has recently completed a concert tour with many laurels to her credit, and is now the soloist for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Dantzier's native state is Texas. She possesses a voice of great natural strength and quality, which has been trained during the past nine years under some of the best masters in Germany. She is now singing on the concert stage.

Mr. Frank Croxton, formerly of Lexington, now of New York, is one of the best known vocalists in America. His superb bass voice grows in strength and richness every year and his varied repertory, ranging from the most sublime in music composition to the daintiest lyrics, makes him an ideal concert artist and he never fails to win the hearts and plaudits of his audience.

The Big May Festival Chorus.

A very notable feature of the festival will be the big chorus of over two hundred voices, composed of the best singers in Lexington and Frankfort, which will render Gade's great cantata, "The Crusaders," on the evening of May 12. Gade is a modern composer and many critics regard "The Crusaders" as his masterpiece. It is undoubtedly a great composition and has been produced with marked success in many of the larger cities. The Lexington and Frankfort choruses have been working very industriously for weeks, under the inspiring and enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Harlowe F. Dean, now instructor of vocal music in the Arts club in Lexington. Mr. Dean is a recent acquisition to Lexington, coming from Boston, where he was a great favorite, and where he directed very large choruses.

MISS ETTA MASTIN, Soprano.

Children's Chorus.

At the matinee performance on Wednesday, May 13, two of the numbers will be a chorus by two hundred children of the Lexington public schools under the direction of Mr. C. F. Croxton. The singing by the children will be a very unique and attractive feature, as it will be the largest trained chorus of children ever heard in this section of the state.

The Program in General.

The exact arrangement of the program for each of the concerts has not been finally decided on. But an outline of the programs can be given now:

Tuesday Evening—Riccardo Martin will sing an aria from one of the big operas and a group of songs. The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra will render several selections. Mr. Julius Sturm will give a group of cello solos. The big chorus, made up of Lexington and Frankfort singers, will produce "The Crusaders," the solo parts being taken by Mr. Riccardo Martin, Miss Etta Mastin and Mr. Frank Croxton.

Wednesday Matinee.—The Symphony Orchestra, the cello and violin soloists, Miss Etta Mastin, Mrs. Mary Hawkins Dantzier, Mr. Frank Croxton, and the Children's Chorus will render a miscellaneous and very delightful program.

Wednesday Evening—There will be several numbers by the Symphony

EMIL HEERMANN, Violinist.

Orchestra, solos by Mr. Sturm and Mr. Heermann, and several groups of songs by Mr. Croxton and Mr. Martin in solo.

The prices for the several concerts will be very reasonable, as compared with prices charged in other cities, and will place them within the reach of all. General admission will be 50 cents. Reserved seats may be had from 75 cents to $2.50 for the evening performances, and 75 cents to $2 for the matinee. Season tickets will be from $3 to $5, according to location, a season rate not being given on the lower priced seats. Inquiries for seats should be addressed to the Ben All Theater, Lexington, where the seats are now on sale.

GOOD CROWD

WILL ATTEND

Owing to the number of extra good horses entered in the Kentucky Derby this year, quite a large delegation from this city will attend the running of this historic race.

The meeting at Lexington this year has been well attended by the lovers of good racing who have had the opportunity to witness many splendid races.
